Canadian Ship Sinks In Detroit River; Crew Safe

AMHERSTBURG, Ont. (CP)—The freighter Glenegles, second largest vessel in the Canada Steamship Lines fleet, sank early today in the shallow Livingstone Channel of the lower Detroit River, about three miles south of here, after ramming rocks following a steering gear accident.

The Glenegles sank bow first and settled on the river bed with her stern afloat. The crew remained aboard.

The tug Atomic of McQueen Marine Ltd. had a line aboard by noon.

The 574-foot 8,233-ton freighter has 13,000 tons of iron ore in her holds. She is captained by Capt. John Dube of Parry Sound, Ont.

The sinking was at 1:15 (E.D.T.).

CAME FROM DULUTH

The Glenegles, downbound from Duluth to Hamilton, was well into the Livingstone Channel when the ram in the steering gear jammed. The freighter veered to starboard, swung out of the narrow channel and smashed bow-on into the rocks.

She slid off the rocks and the forward end sank rapidly, crew members said.

The Atomic, based in this port, was on the scene before the Glenegles touched bottom and got a line aboard, dragging the ship to the east, where she finally came to rest.

The Glenegles is not blocking navigation, witnesses said. Early this afternoon the Atomic had pumps aboard and a lighter was being rushed from Detroit to assist in salvage operations.

None of the 32 crew members was injured.

Police On Alert For Highway Speeders

Provincial Police are on the watch for motorists who fail to keep to the right in the double-line zones on the Island Highway and for those who go through school zones at speeds greater than the limit.

Drastic French Tax Bill Raising Cost Of Living Passes Assembly

PARIS (AP)—Premier Paul Ramadier's drastic tax bill, which will raise prices of such items as bread, milk and cigarettes, was adopted today by the French National Assembly. The vote was 302 to 241. Fifty-nine members abstained.

The measure, which includes administration economies and the suppression of state subsidies, is designed to raise 136,000 francs ($1,142,000,000).

A series of strikes protesting the measure broke out in scattered parts of France. About 150,000 coal miners walked out in the nationalized northern coal fields. At Marseille the Labor Federation ordered a two-hour demonstration strike which threatened to tie up the country's largest port completely this afternoon.

Russia Expected To Veto Proposed Plans For U.N. Global Armed Force

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—The United Nations faced the possibility today of a Russian veto on the question of how contributions in men, planes and warships will be made to the proposed global police force.

This issue, on which the east and west are split, was expected to come before the Security Council at resumption of discussion of the military staff committee's report.

Most delegates believed that a showdown vote now would result in a Russian veto. In view of this, the Council might by-pass the question for the time being. Russia is insisting that members make identical contributions to the U.N. forces—the same number of planes, battleships and troops. But the majority in the Council favor comparable contributions.

Andre Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, contends comparable contributions would give some countries a "predominant position" in the world police force.

The Russian delegation argues that the principle of comparable contributions proposed by the delegations of Britain, the United States and other countries would permit a situation where certain of the Big Five powers might contribute the major portion of the armed forces chiefly in air forces, others chiefly in sea forces, and a third group chiefly in land forces.

That, the Soviet contends, would lead to "advantages in the positions of certain states in the contribution of armed forces by these states and therefore would be in contradiction with the equal status of these states as permanent members of the Security Council."

Russia favors a small force on the ground that the world situation does not warrant maintenance of "inflated armies, navies and air forces."

Lost Plane Found, 3 Men Safe At Lake In Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—A missing plane of the Ontario provincial air-service has been located on a lake some 40 miles north of Port Arthur, and its pilot and two passengers are safe. The Ontario Department of Lands and Forests reported today.

Pilot of the plane was Mac Hallatt, former R.C.A.F. flier, and the passengers are J. F. Atcheson, fish hatchery director, from Port Arthur, and game overseer A. G. Gentry of Upsala, Ont.

Reports reaching here indicated that Hallatt, whose home is in Hamilton, suffered a black eye in what was believed to be a forced landing on Lake Poshokga. That was the only injury.

Saskatchewan Has $121,029 Surplus

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan government's operating surplus for the fiscal year ended last March 31 amounted to $121,029, Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines said today.

With the recent alteration in fiscal year periods, so that the year now ends March 31 instead of April 30, this figure represents the surplus on only 11 months' operation, Mr. Fines said.

Housewives Invade Parliament Buildings, Interview Members

OTTAWA (CP)—Carrying a blue and white beribboned rolling pin, Mrs. Lili Phelps of Toronto, today led a group of approximately 100 Canadian housewives to the Parliament Buildings. The women urged C.C.F. and Social Credit leaders to accompany them when they interview Finance Minister Abbott tomorrow, and then dispersed for talks with their respective members of Parliament.

"Everybody who reads the papers knows where the C.C.F. stands as regards price controls," M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, told the women, as he and other members at a special party caucus examined the brief in which the women have lodged their views on rising prices.

PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE

The fate of the western housewives who invaded the capital three months ago to complain against the rising cost of living was recalled by Stanley Knowles, C.C.F. member for Winnipeg North.

After interviewing Mr. Abbott and receiving his assurance that he would do what he could, the 12-woman delegation from the west had that same afternoon sat in the house and heard the Finance Minister "lift a new batch" of controls, said Mr. Knowles, warning the group that it should at least insist that the government should "not slap you in the face" tomorrow afternoon.

Questions on everything from meat prices to malnutrition flew back and forth when delegates met Solon Low, head of the Social Credit Party.

"Roll back the prices," is the key demand of this group, and Mr. Low wanted to know just where the women wanted to start.

Bevin Proposes All-Europe Talks On U.S. Aid Plan

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin, an authoritative source said today, is expected to propose to the French and Russian Foreign Ministers in Paris Friday that the three countries sponsor an all-European conference on the U.S. Aid-to-Europe plan.

The informant indicated Bevin would discuss this proposal later in the day with William L. Clayton, U.S. Under-Secretary of State, who arrived in England Sunday.

Clayton saw Bevin this morning at 10 Downing Street at a conference attended by Prime Minister Attlee and Hugh Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer. It was reported authoritatively, that this session dealt only with certain "aspects of the American loan to Britain."

TO TAKE 6 WITH HIM

Bevin was expected to leave for Paris Friday, and planned to take with him the same six-man team of financial, agricultural and fuel experts which accompanied him to last week's conversations with Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France.

A Foreign Office spokesman said that thus far Denmark, Norway, Belgium, Holland and Italy had asked Britain for further details on the Marshall plan through their diplomatic representatives in London.

Other authoritative informants said Bevin had called for a report from British occupation authorities as to how Germany should be fitted into any plan of continental reconstruction.

One of the announced objects of Clayton's visit to Britain was discussion of the $3,700,000,000 loan.

An outbreak of strikes involving coal mining, shipbuilding, and livestock handling today marked the birth of the new Taft-Hartley labor law.

A wave of wildcat strikes began sweeping through the coal fields soon after the Senate had over-riden President Truman's veto of the labor bill Monday. Today, nearly an estimated 123,000 coal miners were idle in seven states.

In Illinois, where the great majority of the state's 23,000 United Mine Workers quit work, Hugh White, state U.M.W. president, said the demonstration was in protest against the new law.

At Omaha, Neb., a strike of Union Stockyards Company employees virtually shut down the huge livestock handling firm. The walkout came without warning and resentment of Congress over-riding the labor bill veto may have been a factor.

Workers would not report for work in four east coast ports.

Charles Leone, regional director of the C.I.O. union, said the walkout was the result of the refusal of companies to make any offer to the union in negotiations for a new contract.

In Detroit, Robert Keys, president of the Independent Foremen's Association of America, said that despite the new law, a five-weeks strike of 3,800 Ford Motor Company foremen would continue.

There were predictions today of a third party movement and possible Republican loss of the organized labor vote.

Senator Pepper (Dem.-Fla.) told a reporter he thinks "tremendous impetus was given the fledgling third party movement by the Senate's 68 to 25 vote smothering Mr. Truman's veto."

"Political history has been written here," Pepper declared. "Congress has done more than Henry Wallace ever did to give lift to a third party."

Will Vote Money To Enforce Act

President Truman called in members of the National Labor Relations Board today to discuss administration of the new law.

Paul M. S. Herzog is chairman of the board.

Forty-year-old Gerhard P. Van Arkel quit his job as general counsel for the board. He said he holds "grave doubts concerning both the workability and the fairness" of the act.

Meanwhile Senate Republicans planned a big boost in National Labor Relations Board funds to help administer the new union curb law Congress put on the books over President Truman's veto.

The act imposes far-reaching limitations on union activities, mainly by overhauling the Wagner collective bargaining act.

Among other things, the new law:

Sets up machinery designed to block "national paralysis" strikes; outlaws the closed shop; permits the union shop only when a majority of workers vote for it; prohibits jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts; makes unions liable for unfair labor practices and subject to damage suits.

Senator Irving Ives, Rep., N.Y., a member of the labor committee, estimated the Labor Board's pending appropriation for the year starting July 1 "probably on rising prices.

Speared by the Toronto Housewives' Consumer Association, the women include supporters from labor unions, social service groups, and other consumer organizations across Canada.

Each delegate wore an emblematic rolling pin, a lapel pin fashioned by the Toronto group, but at one point in the discussions the question arose whether or not to carry life-size rolling pins.

"There's nothing ridiculous about a rolling pin—it is the noble order of the housewives," said Mrs. M. B. Murphy, president of the Halifax Housewives' and Consumers' Organization.

"This group must continue its fight against rising prices long after it has finished its business in Ottawa," said the lone male representative, W. L. White of the Vancouver Labor Council. He urged the women to keep talking up this price situation when they returned home because the "action on the part of the people of Canada is what's going to curtail these jumping prices."

Body Of Alberni Youth Recovered In Beaver Lake

The body of Victor Robert Hastings, 17, Adelaide Street, Alberni, was recovered from Beaver Lake by Cpl. Jack Hamilton and Constable Leslie Ledson, of the Saanich Police, after 15 minutes of dragging operations at 2:35 this morning. He had been on a night swimming party with seven other young people.

The Alberni youth had been on a visit to Victoria with his mother, Mrs. Mabel Hastings, and had stayed at the home of Richard Hudlin, 743 Market Street. Mr. Hudlin was the driver of the vehicle which took the party to the lake, according to police.

This is the second drowning case in this area this year, four-year-old Patricia Olmstead, 2664 Prior Street, being found drowned in Wolf Lake May 24.

"A competent swimmer, it is not known what caused Hastings to suddenly disappear. It is likely an inquest will be held this week by Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner."

Cpl. Hamilton and Constable Ledson, on duty in the patrol car, got a radio message to attend at Beaver Lake with dragging equipment. They arrived at the main float on the lake off East Saanich Road at 2:10. The third cast with the dragging irons made contact 25 feet out.

Capt. Glen Robbins and Fireman Robert Mortimer of the Saanich Fire Department worked on the boy with the inhalator after he had been brought to the float. They labored for 45 minutes without result and then took the boy to hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Joan Baldwin, 2545 Cadboro Bay Road, told police that Hastings was swimming toward her when he went down.

"But he came up and then suddenly went straight down and this time did not come up," she said.

Members of the party dived after him, but all efforts were fruitless.

It is estimated that the body had been in the water 45 minutes before the police brought it to the surface.

Woman Injured In Morning Accident

Adeline Sangster, 33, Suite 1, 101 Menzies Street, was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital suffering with a possible fracture of the right collarbone after being involved in an accident with a truck this morning at 11, at the intersection of Government and Wharf Streets.

According to Constables Ray Maitland and J. D. Blackstock who attended the scene, Mrs. Sangster was walking north on Government and crossing the Wharf intersection when the truck, driven north on Government and turning to go west on Wharf by George H. Thompson, 65, Dunford Road, was in collision with her.

Roll back the prices," is the key demand of this group, and Mr. Low wanted to know just where the women wanted to start.

City's Tourist Information Scored By World Traveler

After you lure tourists to Victoria, you shouldn't leave them up in the air in regard to what there is to do and what there is to see in the city or on Vancouver Island, E. H. Scott, formerly of Scott Laboratories, Chicago, an experienced world traveler, said to members of the Gyro Club Monday.

Mr. Scott, who recently returned from New Zealand where he spent six months making the first full color film of scenic highlights of the country, has traveled to between 40 and 50 countries of the world.

"I think I know what other countries have to offer," Mr. Scott said, and from what I have seen of Vancouver Island and British Columbia there is much more here than in many of the lands I have visited.

One of the main questions asked by a tourist is: "Where can I go and what can I see?" he said. "In Victoria your maps for tourists do not show very much. There is no index for finding streets; one needs a magnifying glass," he said.

The folders are devoid of any definite information on sights, special attractions, eating places and beauty spots, items that tourists look for, he said.

"What you need is something to show what there is to do and see in the city."

"I have done a tremendous amount of traveling to all parts of the world," he said, "and I find that in many countries, folders are out of date and do not describe the places which a tourist looked for."

Color photography has been Mr. Scott's hobby for the past 12 years and during that time he has taken more than 25,000 feet of color film.

While in New Zealand, he shot 8,000 feet of color film, which he presented to the New Zealand government.

Prior to that he and his wife spent five months in Central and South America, taking color films of the highlights of that country. He traveled by air on the trip.

Rev. William Hills, Gyro Club padre, in discussing Mr. Scott's criticism, proposed the Chamber of Commerce, Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau and the municipal bodies get together and do something about the lack of such important tourist information.

Hard Rock Miners Suggested For Ripple Rock Task

OTTAWA (CP) — A couple of good hard rock miners are needed to remove Ripple Rock, the massive menace to navigation which lies in Seymour Narrows, off the northern section of the east coast of Vancouver Island, J. L. Gibson, Ind., Comox-Alberni, said in the Commons Monday night.

Speaking as the House resumed discussion of means of removing the rock during study of public works estimates, he said he thought there had been enough work by engineers who had been unable to make any impression on the rock in nearly 10 years of labor.

As for "no cure, no pay" proposals advanced by several companies, he suggested the minister accept them because "no one can do any harm to the rock." If they managed to blast 10 feet from the top of the rock, then they might be paid a third of the fee for removal of the obstruction.

Cecil Merritt, P.C., Vancouver-Burrard, also urged that the government investigate a "no cure, no pay" proposal put forward by a Vancouver firm.

Western Manitoba Communities Hit By Severe Floods

WINNIPEG (CP) — Rain-soaked western Manitoba communities looked hopefully today toward clearing skies as swollen streams and creeks lapped at doors of farm houses and tourist cabins, washed over highways and railway lines and threatened the power supply of at least one town.

Dauphin, a town of 5,000 on the Vermilion River about 150 miles northwest of Winnipeg, was hardest hit. Flood waters rose to unprecedented heights, washing out all roads and all but one railway line, cutting off the water supply and threatening the electric power.

R.C.M.P. rescued two men whose team was swept from the highway seven miles from the town. The men clung to a tree until help arrived, but the horses were drowned.

Considerable damage to crops in the area was feared and there were reports of livestock losses.

Three of the several rivers draining northward from Riding Mountain joined to form a torrent more than three miles wide in several places. Some streams were reported rising six inches an hour.

The Russell area, 200 miles west of Winnipeg, and Birtle, 180 miles west, also were drenched and some families on low-lying farms evacuated their homes or fled to the second story of their houses.

Birdtail River was reported over two bridges leading into Birtle and highway engineers feared they would be swept away. Bus and telephone communications were said to be disrupted at a number of points.

But there, as elsewhere in the province apart from the stricken Dauphin area, the rain was hailed with rejoicing rather than fear. The precipitation over the three-day period, officially placed at a maximum of 4.24 inches at Birtle but higher in unofficial measurements, fell for the most part on areas which previously had been moisture-deficient.

It had been found this firm had not the competent staff or financial backing needed for the task. Many persons had advanced proposals for removal of the rock, on which $900,000 had been spent thus far, but none were engineers with sufficient knowledge for the job.

Doctors, Dentists Oppose Being Drawn Into Labor Unions

WINNIPEG — Opposition to legislation which might force unionization of any part of the medical profession was expressed here Monday by doctors from Canada's nine provinces.

The matter was one of several subjects discussed by the 1,500 delegates attending the Canadian Medical Association's 78th annual convention.

The opposition to unionization, an association spokesman said, was based primarily on the profession's determination to stay clear of any organization which might seek at any time to call doctors out on strike.

Reason for the voicing of the opposition, Dr. H. E. MacDermot of Montreal, said, was a clause in the Industrial Relations and Disputes Investigation Act, now being drafted by the federal Labor Department, which might make doctors liable for union membership under certain circumstances.

During the convention, he said, a resolution would be drafted, for submission to Labor Minister Mitchell, following association approval, which would ask that the clause in question be recorded in such a way that doctors would not, under any circumstances, find themselves compelled to join a union.

"We have no objections to unions as such, but we are opposed to the principle of unionizing our profession."

POSITION OF DENTISTS

DIGBY, N.S. (CP)—Objection in principle to proposed federal legislation which might make dentists liable to membership in trade unions under certain circumstances was expressed by the board of governors of the Canadian Dental Association here Monday.

The decision will be forwarded to the federal labor department in reply to a letter enclosing a draft copy of a bill received by the association earlier this year.

C.D.A. spokesmen said the bill as drafted would bring all members of all professions employed by industry and municipalities into trade union agreements and subject to jurisdiction of the labor union specified as the collective bargaining agent.

The dentists' reply was that insistence upon members of their profession joining a union to which they objected in principle would discourage the best type of professional man from entering any service where union membership was demanded.

It was estimated that 125 dentists are employed in the federal government and hence might be subject to the measure should it become law.

Borley Ghost On Rampage Again

BORLEY, Essex, Eng. (CP)—The ghost of Borley Rectory is said to be back after an interval of quiet in what has been called "the most haunted spot in Britain."

New witnesses are a BBC engineer and a Borley resident. The engineer said he went into the grounds in search of a nightingale. Instead he experienced "an icy sensation" near the base of the spine and heard mysterious tapping noises.

"I searched the grounds, but found nothing," he said. The Borley resident said: "I was looking at the burned-out site when out of the corner of my eye I saw a stick suddenly leave the ground. Next moment it was hovering before my eyes."

"I drew back as the stick seemed about to strike me, then suddenly it went soaring away in an arc towards the shrubbery."

During those few seconds I became conscious of a chill in the air, damp and moist, though it was a hot afternoon.

"Others may scorn and laugh, but I'm convinced there is something uncanny and evil at Borley and it should be exorcised by a priest."

Co-Worker Of Slain Vancouver Woman Accused Of Murder

VANCOUVER (CP)—A slight, pale-faced bakery employee who had worked with Mrs. Norma Burton, today faced a murder charge arising out of the strangling of a 27-year-old auburn-haired housewife of the tree-lined shores of Lost Lagoon, in Stanley Park, early Sunday.

Police laid the charge late Monday night against Elmer Edward Johnson, 25, of suburban Burnaby, after a day-long grilling at police headquarters. They said a second man, Arthur Miller, 21, who they claimed had been with Mrs. Burton, Johnson and a second girl during a drinking party Saturday night, was held as a material witness.

The battered and bruised body of Mrs. Burton, who had been criminally assaulted, was found by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnes while they were walking in the park.

Mrs. Barnes said she saw "something awful just off the path. Then I saw this awful blue face."

John G. Burton, Norma's husband, was attending a picnic when his wife left for downtown Vancouver Saturday night. They were married six years ago and separated recently, but had been together again six weeks before she was killed.

"I hope they get the guy who did it," Burton said.

Newfoundland Delegates Arrive In Ottawa For Discussions

OTTAWA (CP) — F. Gordon Bradley, chairman of the Newfoundland National Convention, led a delegation into Ottawa today to discuss for the third time in the last 78 years the possibility of the island's entry into Canadian Confederation.

The delegation will open discussion tomorrow with Canadian government officials on a question that twice before proved insoluble.

At the time Confederation first was being formed Newfoundland and Canadian authorities exchanged views on the possibility of the island joining the union. The Newfoundland government of the day favored the idea, but in 1869 the Newfoundland people voted against it.

also a member of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion.

He is survived by one son, Kenneth of Victoria, one sister, Mrs. Edna Shepherd, 2066 Marine Street, and two brothers, Harry in Victoria, and Ernest, in Cornwall, Ont.

In 1895, when Newfoundland ran into financial difficulties, she sought union with Canada. On that occasion, the Canadian government's offer was considered too meagre and Newfoundland turned to the United Kingdom for assistance.

Now the question is up for a third time and, as on the first occasion, the Newfoundland people will likely have final say in the matter.

Prime Minister King told the Commons Monday the government would be happy to welcome the delegates on the 45th anniversary of the founding of Newfoundland.

He said he was sure the discussions would be characterized by mutual friendliness and understanding.

Canada's end of the discussions will be handled by External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, Justice Minister Iles, Finance Minister Abbott, Defence Minister Claxton, Fisheries Minister Bridges and Senator Wishart. McL. Robertson, government leader in the Senate.

Canada Not Asked Views On Marshall Aid To Europe Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister St. Laurent said in a reply tabled Monday in the Commons that the government had not been asked by either the U.S. government or the United Kingdom government for an expression of views made by U.S. State Secretary Marshall in his address at Harvard University June 5, concerning the requirements for the rehabilitation of Europe.

"The government has, however, been following developments in this regard with great interest and is in receipt of detailed information on this subject both from its representatives in London and Washington and from the Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs," said Mr. St. Laurent.

He was replying to T. Church, P.C., Toronto, Broadview, who asked if the government had been consulted on proposals by Gen. Marshall and Foreign Secretary Bevin of the United Kingdom for settlement of European peace terms and economic matters outside the scope of the United Nations.

'Bring My Husband Home'

Austrian police, at Soviet request, break up a demonstration by women in Vienna and drag off a woman "agitator" (above). Some 500 Austrian women massed outside the Soviet Commandatura office and demanded release of their husbands and sweethearts, captured by the Russians during the war and still believed held by them.

Atomic Bomb Influences Medical Convention Addresses

WINNIPEG (CP)—The influence of the atomic bomb showed up Monday on the agenda of the Canadian Medical Association's 78th annual convention as physicians and surgeons, totaling about 1,000 from all parts of Canada, registered for the five-day meeting.

The form it took on the program was an address by Dr. O. M. Solandt of Ottawa, director of research defence for the armed forces, who will speak Thursday on the medical aspects of civil defence.

ATTACKS POSSIBLE

Text of the address, one of three to be delivered that day to a meeting of the armed forces medical section, has not yet been released, but a brief abstract says it assumes attacks on Canadian cities with atomic and biological weapons now are technically possible.

"The medical profession can help in defence against such attacks by supporting national and international efforts to eliminate war while preserving freedom and by co-operating in planning an organization of passive defence measures."

The abstract adds: "The other addresses will be given by Wing Cmdr. W. R. Franks of Toronto, who will speak on recent advances in aviation medicine, and Dr. J. A. Hillyman of Winnipeg, whose topic is the field surgical unit."

Dr. G. C. Butler of Chalk River, Ont., site of Canada's atom research plant, is to speak to a general session on medical implications of recent developments in atomic physics.

The abstract accompanying the program says "discovery of uranium fission and successful operation of chain-reacting piles has enormously increased production of radioactive isotopes. Such substances, previously made with cyclotrons, have found application in clinical medicine."

Dentists Arriving

Approximately 200 members of the American Dental Trade Association and their families started to arrive here today and more will come Tuesday from Banff, where they have just completed their annual convention. The visitors will be shown around Victoria before returning to their respective homes in the United States.

May Bring Polish Girls

REGINA (CP)—Consideration is being given to a plan to bring Polish girls to Saskatchewan as solution of the shortage problem of domestic and hospital labor, Agriculture Minister I. C. Nallet said here Monday.

He did not know of any discussions yet between the provincial and federal government on the matter.

Guarded By Police, Punjab Legislature Votes Separation

LAHORE, India (AP)—The Punjab Legislature, meeting behind protective barbed-wire barricades heavily manned by police, voted Monday to divide the fertile province and its 30,000,000 people between Hindustan and Moslem.

In a joint Sikh-Hindu-Moslem meeting, 91 legislators voted to join a new constituent assembly to write a constitution for Pakistan and 77 to join the present Constituent Assembly to write a constitution for Hindustan.

Subsequently, in separate meetings, those from the predominantly Hindu and Sikh eastern Punjab voted 50 to 22, and those from the predominantly Moslem west Punjab voted 69 to 27, to partition the province and join the respective constituent assemblies.

The votes followed a week-end of bitter communal rioting in which 28 persons were slain. Strict security measures were invoked by police in an effort to prevent any new demonstrations. The city was relatively quiet today, and up to the time the vote was taken shortly before noon no trouble had been reported.

Close controls were exercised over all persons entering the city and news correspondents encountered a strict censorship which telegraph office employees said was imposed by the Punjab government.

Approximately 150 homes and shops were set afire and burned out in Sunday's disorders, during which belligerents—battled with bricks and stones and looters attempted to raid a rice mill.

Delegation, 200 Strong, To Seek Price Recontrol

OTTAWA (CP)—Complete with rolling pins the vanguard of a 200-woman delegation of housewives from across Canada moved in on the capital today bent on interviewing government officials in an effort to obtain the re-introduction of price control subsidies and rent control.

The "rolling pins" are little wooden lappel pins made by the Toronto Housewives and Consumers' Association and inscribed with the inscription "roll back prices."

"We made them ourselves," said Mrs. Lily Phelps of Toronto, who accompanied by Mrs. Louise Watson, also of Toronto, were the first to arrive in Ottawa.

The two delegates spent the morning phoning government offices in order to make appointments for interviews. A meeting with Finance Minister Abbott already has been arranged for Wednesday.

Most of the other members of the delegation, which includes housewives from every province in Canada, are expected to arrive here tonight when a general conference has been called to discuss organization purposes.

California Loses Ocean Oil Belt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Supreme Court Monday upheld by a 6-2 decision the federal government's claim to ownership of oil-rich submerged lands off the California coast. The United States contended it had title to a belt beginning at low tide and extending seaward three miles.

California claimed ownership of the lands, on which it has issued about 100 leases for withdrawal of oil by various companies.

Pensioners To Double In Quarter Century

WINNIPEG (CP)—Health Minister Ivan Schultz, of Manitoba, told the 16th annual convention of Manitoba Municipal Secretary-Treasurers Monday the province's 27,000 persons over the age of 70 will have doubled in another 25 years if scientific discoveries continue to extend the life expectation.

"More than an old age pension is needed now. There must be some plan made for these people," he said. "There are also an additional 3,500 pensioners in Manitoba since the ceiling income has been raised to $600."

His Filibuster Failed

Senator Glen H. Taylor (R-Idaho) relaxes in Washington, D.C., with a bit of nourishment after speaking continuously for more than eight hours on the Senate floor in an effort to delay Senate action on President Truman's veto of the Taft-Hartley labor control bill. It was a wasted effort. The Senate voted the bill into law this afternoon.

Dauphin Cloudburst Isolates Farmers

DAUPHIN, Man. (CP)—Farm families in this northwestern Manitoba district were isolated Monday, hundreds of acres of grain inundated and roads and railway lines washed out after a cloudburst which drenched the area. There was no immediate estimate of damage.

The downpour—the weather office at Winnipeg reported 3.51 inches of rain had fallen in the 48 hours up to early today—was abating this afternoon although flood waters in swollen creeks and rivers still were rising.

Farm families along the Valley and Wilson Rivers were forced to the second floors of their dwellings and some residents of low-lying flats adjoining the Vermillion River at Dauphin evacuated their homes as the water rose.

A tourist camp was cut off with cabin floors under water and the camp's superintendent said food supplies would have to be taken in by boat unless the water receded soon.

Cloverdale—Members of the Cloverdale P.T.A. will sponsor "Sunny South," a dance revue in which pupils of Mrs. F. Farrow will take part, to be held at Cloverdale School auditorium tonight at 8. Small dancers will be seen as pickaninnies and southern belles and a program of negro melodies will be offered. Proceeds will be used to aid Playfair and Tolmie playgrounds.

Britain Protests Jap Whaling Fleet

LONDON (AP)—A foreign Office spokesman said Monday Britain had protested to the United States against American authorization of a new Japanese whaling expedition to the Antarctic.

Britain fears, he said, that a Japanese whaling fleet "might one day become the basis of a new navy." Additionally, the spokesman said, Britain deems it too early for the Japanese flag to appear on the high seas, presumably because the Japanese peace treaty has not yet been written.

British and Norwegian seamen's groups adopted Sunday a resolution urging their governments to take steps to "exclude the Japanese from all future participation in whaling."

IT DOES NOT MAKE SENSE

FROM THE QUIET AND PASTORAL surroundings at Lake Success today comes the suggestion that Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko will invoke the veto because the Kremlin objects to a Global Police Force which does not provide for equal contributions from member states of the United Nations. Entrusted with the disposition of this important business, of course, is the Security Council—the peace-enforcing agency which already has become familiar with the Russian technique for circumventing any proposal that does not specifically conform to the Moscow concept of what is good for Russia.

As we remarked in these columns the other day, the Military Staff Committee of the U.N.S.C. has spent some 15 months in valiant efforts to evolve recommendations that conceivably would win the approval of mankind. Its text of the principles for the composition of such a world police force contains the following under Chapter IV, Articles 9 and 11:

"All member nations shall have the opportunity as well as the obligation to place armed forces, facilities and other assistance at the disposal of the Security Council... according to their capabilities and requirements... Each of the five permanent members of the Security Council will make a comparable initial over-all contribution to the armed forces made available to the Security Council... In view of the difference in size and composition of national forces of each permanent member the ability of the Security Council to constitute balanced and effective contributions may differ widely as to the strength of the separate components, land, sea and air."

But the Russian delegate is obviously instructed to see in this commonsense allocation of obligation and capacity something of which the Kremlin—in accordance with its general principle—should be suspicious. In other words, Mr. Gromyko would be running true to form were he to stand out for the same land, sea and air contribution to the Global Police Force from the United States, Britain and France—not forgetting China. This idea simply does not make sense.

HAZARDS OF DARKNESS

DURING THE DARK HOURS OF THE early morning a 17-year-old youth lost his life in the waters of Beaver Lake. It is conceivable that the tragedy might have occurred had the boy and his companions been swimming in daylight. The fact that he went down in darkness, however, prevented effective efforts by his friends to render assistance when he found himself in difficulties.

Certain hazards exist whenever swimmers take to deep water. A sudden cramp can bring disaster to even the most competent. When the pastime is enjoyed in company in the bright hours of daytime, however, the dangers are minimized. For the protection of all who enjoy the sport, it is imperative that unnecessary risks be avoided. Deep water swimming in the dark is a practice that goes beyond the limits of safety. The tragedy that occurred early today emphasizes its dangers.

EITHER OR

ACCORDING TO THE ASSOCIATED Press the current attitude of the Chinese National government toward aid from the United States is summed up in the phrase "Save us now or take the consequences." This oversimplified analysis seems to presuppose on the part of the Nationalists an understanding that only through their complete triumph over dissidents can some degree of stability be established in the new republic. It appears to give little consideration to that section of outside opinion which is dissatisfied with the manipulations of which the Nationalists have been accused, and which sees little hope for permanent democratic advance through the Kuomintang party.

Interlocked with the political aspects of China's current troubles, of course, is the question of famine. All humanitarians favor outside assistance to save the lives of those who have insufficient to eat. But the more realistic of these well-wishers are far from convinced that dominance of the Nationalists would assure distribution of food to points where it is most needed. The unhappy earlier reports of Unruh goods piled on wharves in China and of application of the "squeeze" in their allocation are not reassuring. The more fortunate countries must recognize their obligations to aid those in distress. At the same time, a nation even as rich and powerful as the United States can scarcely be expected to assume the role of Atlas and bear on its back all others which cannot stand on their own feet.

How our neighbors will react to the demand of China, particularly in the light of commitments made there, is a matter for their decision. It seems logical, however, to expect them to apply to this oriental republic something of the same technique gaining popularity in the United States for improvement in Europe. In other words, there appears a disposition in the State Department at Washington to favor help for those who help themselves.

If the Nationalists are depending upon the position of the United States in relation to the ideological cleavage between the western democracies and Russia, and are implying a threat from the Soviets as the "consequences" attending failure to save China, the injunction they lay down will bear close study. All factions opposed to the Nationalists are not Communists—nor would a "beat Russia in China" program necessarily contribute materially to the solution of the problems that plague the civil war-ridden Republic.

THE VOTE ON SCHOOLS

LAST WEEK THE RATEPAYERS OF Greater Victoria gave an encouraging demonstration of their appreciation of citizenship duties when they turned out in force to give approval to the transportation franchise agreement. At the same time, property owners of the city itself registered their decision on the school building program. This Thursday the qualified voters of Esquimalt, Oak Bay, and View Royal will be called upon to display the same recognition of their obligations when voting takes place in their districts on the school by-law, and a similar manifestation will be expected in Saanich on Saturday when the northern municipality goes to the polls on that issue.

The revived interest in their own affairs, evident on the part of the voters last Thursday, should be shown again in the different municipalities this week. The question placed before them is straightforward. It asks whether they wish to give the children of this community the buildings and equipment deemed essential for their training, or whether the property owners are content to see the district continue its educational efforts with facilities that are obsolete and inadequate.

From a point of self-interest alone, the residents of the View Royal and Cadboro Bay areas will appreciate the fact that the expenses of the new program will be less than current costs for the transportation of the children to suitable schools. In the other districts, the appeal rests on the broader principle of meeting the needs of a community which has outgrown its present establishments and must extend them.

To meet the main purpose of the democratic principle of the ballot, it is essential that a high percentage exercise the franchise. The decision should be rendered by a thoroughly representative body of taxpayers.

FINAL ARGUMENT

POSSIBLY THE MOST SINCERE BELIEVERS in the necessity of preventing another world war are those who have a full knowledge of the effect of the atomic bomb. The scientists who planned and prepared the deadly weapon, the men who handled it and delivered it to its Japanese target, have been almost unanimous in their advocacy that the first wartime testing of the bomb must be the last—that there must never be another war, if only to prevent the use of atomic energy as an instrument of martial attack.

The point is stressed in a motion picture now showing locally, which purports to disclose the work and study that resulted in the raid on Hiroshima. Beneath all the melodrama and sentimentality, it is possible to gain a sense of the urgency of the problem—a sense which is heightened by the pictorial representation of the atomic bomb in action.

Seeing from the vantage point of the bombing plane the now-familiar mushroom-shaped cloud spread over the doomed Japanese city, one is struck first by the utter helplessness of the "ants" who are dying below; and secondly by the inevitable thought that "there, but for the grace of God, go I." If there should be another world war, we must reckon the atomic bomb as an inescapable concomitant. That fact alone, beyond the many other arguments against war, should render the whole concept of international armed conflict an impossibility.

A MILLION A MINUTE

AS AN INDICATION OF THE TECHNICAL developments entailed, NBC President Niles Trammell's announcement regarding new speeds in radio communication represents a near miracle. According to this figure of the broadcasting world, a system has been evolved which would permit transmission of 1,000,000 words a minute. It is not for us to question the feasibility of operating such a system. Mr. Trammell's vision of a newspaper delivered by radio is another matter. What arouses particular interest, however, is the volume of wordage that may be unloaded.

Through untold media, the world is being deluged with words. To the flood of publications on almost any subject has been added the constantly purring stream of radio. In the day of the extravert, the earth hums with words. And now, by Mr. Trammell's estimate, transmission may move into super-sonic realms.

But while the syllables gush forth, there seems to be little to suggest the outflow of ideas has increased to anything like the extent needed to justify the flood of verbiage. At the rate of a million every minute, we wonder where the thought processes will be found to give sense to them. And, wondering, we are somewhat prone to think it might be better if the tap of loquacity were turned off and the processes of reason devoted to a relatively few subjects about which too much is being said and too little done.

Walter Lippmann

REVISION OF U.S. POLICY

IF ITS FUNDAMENTAL conception is respected and followed, Secretary Marshall's Harvard speech will mark the beginning of a more natural and normal relationship between the United States and the European world. Mr. Marshall insisted that the plan of European rehabilitation should be made in Europe, not in America, and that the United States role is to support, assist, and encourage but not to initiate and lead, or to compel the European nations to adopt an American plan.

For the United States realized, as the gravity of the impending crisis has become better understood, that if Europe is to become less dependent upon her economically, it must become less dependent politically. Thus, as long as Mr. Bevin and Mr. Bidault look first to Washington on European questions, they will not come together as Europeans. The fantastic fact that there is not yet a common Franco-British-Belgian-Dutch policy about Germany and the Ruhr has almost certainly been due mainly to an excessive deference to and preoccupation with Washington.

THE HARVARD SPEECH is, I believe, intended to change this false relationship among the European nations and with the United States. It says in effect that instead of each of them seeking agreement with the U.S. separately, they should agree among themselves. For Americans cannot govern Europe and do not want to have to try. The European nations must govern themselves in order that the U.S. may be able to help them effectively over the transition from war to peace. To become self-supporting they must begin by being self-reliant.

This does not mean that the United States is withdrawing from Europe. She will continue to maintain the balance of power along the Stettin-Trieste line and in the Middle East, and is offering to support a program of European recovery. This is in no sense isolationism. But the U.S. will have to draw back from too intimate entanglement, from excessive intervention, in the interior life of the European Continent.

THE AGREEMENT just made with the Greek government is a concrete example of this too intimate entanglement and excessive intervention. Even if Americans admit that in the case of Greece there was no alternative, what they have gotten into in Greece is a clear and striking example of what they cannot afford to let themselves in for in other countries. If what they have to do in the way of governing Greece is the "Truman Doctrine" in practice, then it is out of the question that they should apply it elsewhere in Europe.

Imagine trying to do anything resembling the Greek operation in Italy, or the Netherlands, not to speak of France or Great Britain! The Greek entanglement illustrates perfectly the necessity for the basic change in U.S. European policy which the Marshall speech signalled.

THE NEW WORLD CAN, as Canning said more than a century ago, redress the balance of the Old World. But it cannot govern, administer, direct or, except in limited amounts and temporarily, subsidize the Old World.

If Europe is threatened by Soviet imperialism, the United States cannot save Europe by confronting Russia alone. Europe must save itself. The United States can assist Europe to save itself only if the main effort of salvation is made in Europe.

The deep wisdom of the Harvard speech is that it rests upon a true estimate of American relationship with Europe, avoiding both the fallacy of isolation and its no less fallacious alternative, which is universal unilateral intervention, or what Theodore Roosevelt used to call the policy of "meddlesome Mattie."

THE NEEDS OF EUROPE are urgent. Nevertheless, now that the United States has made the right start, she will do well to make haste slowly, to let the seeds planted in the Harvard speech germinate and bear their fruits in Europe.

For she can help effectively only as fast in Europe as a whole, or in any part of it, for example the Ruhr, as the nations most concerned are able and willing to act together.

Nor can she move any faster than at home. If Congress and the people are to support a European program on the scale which the situation requires, it will have to be very clear to them that this is in fact a program of recovery and of peace, and not just another way of doling out relief that cures nothing. Only a program made in Europe by agreement among Europeans will carry with it a reasonable hope that it is the real thing.

Letters To The Editor

SUPPORT FROM REEVE

As I have satisfied myself the schools of Greater Victoria, including those of Oak Bay, are overcrowded, that the use of basement rooms and wooden annexes is a menace to the health and safety of our children, and that the only solution is a long-range building program, I am giving my personal support to the School Loan By-law to be voted upon by the people of Oak Bay on Thursday (June 26).

I have been assured by the Oak Bay representatives on the Greater Victoria School Board that the need for more accommodation is very urgent and they ask for your favorable vote to enable them to meet this serious situation.

WALTER M. WALKER,
Reeve.

I wish to thank all the electors of Esquimalt for the confidence they have placed in me by electing me Reeve. I will at all times give of my best for the good of the municipality at large.

OUR MAY QUEEN

May I express my thanks and appreciation to the people of Victoria for the honor of being their May Queen.

Princess May and Dorothy and I have just returned from the Portland Rose Festival which has added many more pleasant memories to those of our own May 24 celebrations.

We are very grateful to the members of the Royal-Rosarians who arranged our Portland program and to the citizens of Portland for their fine hospitality.

We spent a very busy and most enjoyable week attending all the official celebrations and visiting many of the local places of interest.

May I also thank the Lions Club and our chaperone, Mrs. R. B. Young, for their kindness and thoughtfulness which made all my duties as May Queen a pleasure.

HOW WE ARE READ!

Our attention has been drawn to an extract (from the London, Ont., Free Press), "Time May Tell," under the heading Clipped at Random in your issue of Wednesday, May 7, 1947, in which it is stated, "After a brief though well-publicized life, Esperanto died out."

May we express our amazement that a newspaper in 1947 should be so ill-informed! Since Esperanto appeared in 1887 it has been in constant use all over the world. It has a literature of over 10,000 works—original and translated, prose and poetry—and at the moment there are current some 40 or 50 periodicals in the language. This league's monthly magazine circulates in 60 countries.

International congresses, conducted exclusively in Esperanto, have been held annually—since the exception of war years—since 1905, and this year's congress, at Bern, will attract over 1,000 delegates.

Esperanto broadcasts may be heard every day in the week, and several universities—including Liverpool—and numerous schools actively encourage the language.

In the sphere of governmental recognition one may mention, out of several instances, the Esperanto publications of the Brazilian Department of Statistics and Geography. Various governments will also be represented at the forthcoming congress in Bern.

Altogether, it would therefore seem that Esperanto is a very lively "corpse."

FINE CO-OPERATION

On behalf of the Parent-Teacher school by-law committee we wish to thank most sincerely all those who assisted in any way to get voters to the polls in Victoria on June 19. Our 334 helpers included students, teachers, parent-teacher members, school trustees and citizens, and it was largely through their efforts that a record by-law was passed. We trust that the work of our committee in View Royal, Esquimalt and Oak Bay on Thursday, June 26, and in Saanich on Saturday, June 28, will have similar satisfactory results.

Restoring The Forest In Scotland

U.K. Information Office

DEEP IN THE forest of Ae in Dumfriesshire, Scotland's Forestry Commission has started to build a model village—the first of its kind in the country. Before Mr. Tom Johnston, former Secretary of State for Scotland, broke the turf there in a recent ceremony, the whole village had been completely designed by the commission. The plans include shops, church, school, inn, and village hall as well as about 80 homes for forestry workers.

The Forest of Ae is a young forest. Before the Forestry Commission started work in 1927, most of the land was under sheep. There was little woodland except a few patches of oak and elder in some of the valleys. Today there are 3,000 acres of woodland, and 4,500 acres have yet to be planted. From 16 men, the number of full-time employees had increased to 27 at the outbreak of war, and it is estimated that by 1960 about 90 men will be needed all the year around on essential forest work. This does not take into account the numbers which will be required for saw milling, transport, and other jobs.

The national aim—and, of course, the aim of our systems of public transportation—is to eliminate accidents, and that can only be done by a determined endeavor to establish their causes and seek for remedies. A smart statistical barrage designed to erect a defence against criticism is more likely to augment public nervousness than to re-establish confidence.

For home consumption The building of the village was described by Mr. Johnston as an indication of the spirit with which Scotland was facing its problems. From the 2 per cent of timber now being produced in Scotland, Mr. Johnston looked forward to the day when a third of the country's needs would be supplied from home production. In five years they were determined to raise the employment figure from 3,000 to 8,000, and at the end of fifty years in Britain they expected to have 100,000 employees.

With no slumps and no gluts, afforestation offered a good return for honest labor with a guarantee of employment for life.

REVIVAL Well-planned forest communities, such as Ae, may well provide one answer to Scotland's problem of rural depopulation. A suggestion that, on the completion of the village, a maypole should be erected is not without point, for this may be the first step in a return to a healthy country community life. Ae is more than a model village in the making—it is a hopeful sign of portent.

Incidentally, the brevity of its name has been the cause of some comment and research. One newspaper columnist, recording a Dutch II, a Czech As, a French Ax, and a Siberian Oh, went on to report five Scottish lochs called Ba and a headland of the Island of Islay called Os.

A "world title" might have been claimed for Iona, island burial-place of early Scottish kings, by the revival of its old name—I. But the risks of having an I and an Ae (pronounced I) in the same country are too obvious and the revival is unlikely.

GLACIERS ON THE WANE

Norway Digest
Norwegian glaciers, according to Professor Knut Faegri of Bergen, have melted at a rapid rate in recent years that it is possible that they will soon disappear altogether. One particular glacier has receded over 1800 feet during a single year and others are showing similar tendencies. This is regarded by many as a potential threat to Norwegian water power sources.

REDS STEAL YOUTH

Windsor Star
Every few days, another youth organization is shown to be Communist-controlled. Those really to blame for this subversion are the older people who should be the true leaders of youth. They are standing aloof, unconcerned over the machinations of the Red infiltration. It is only when evidence of its success is uncovered that they awake to the menace and cry condemnation on the young people whose worst sin has been naïveté.

NOT 'FINISHED' YET

Halifax Herald
There are countless signs that Britain is by no means "finished."

For instance, it is announced that the United States Navy Department has ordered a number of British turbo-jet engines, made by a famous British firm, because these have proven to be the best of their kind. These and other things all add up to the conclusion that British brains and British skills still have something to contribute to this troubled world.

SUSPICIOUS MINDS

Montreal Star
There are some in this country who regard with suspicion any move to bring Canada into closer relationship with the United States. American initiative to them spells either absorption or domination. It need spell neither and they need only look to Europe to discover that the process by which Russia is consolidating her power position is not being emulated in her power sphere by the United States.

AS THE WINE MELLOWS

Industrial Health Bulletin
Aging does not mean decline. It does mean that certain functional capacities diminish while others are enhanced. Thus speed of reaction declines with age but is compensated by increased endurance. Skill, judgment and experience are the accumulated assets of the older worker which allow him to make a unique contribution to industry. A survey of some of the largest industries in the United States indicated that individuals over 40 are more conscientious, more open-minded toward criticism and bring in more new ideas of value.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

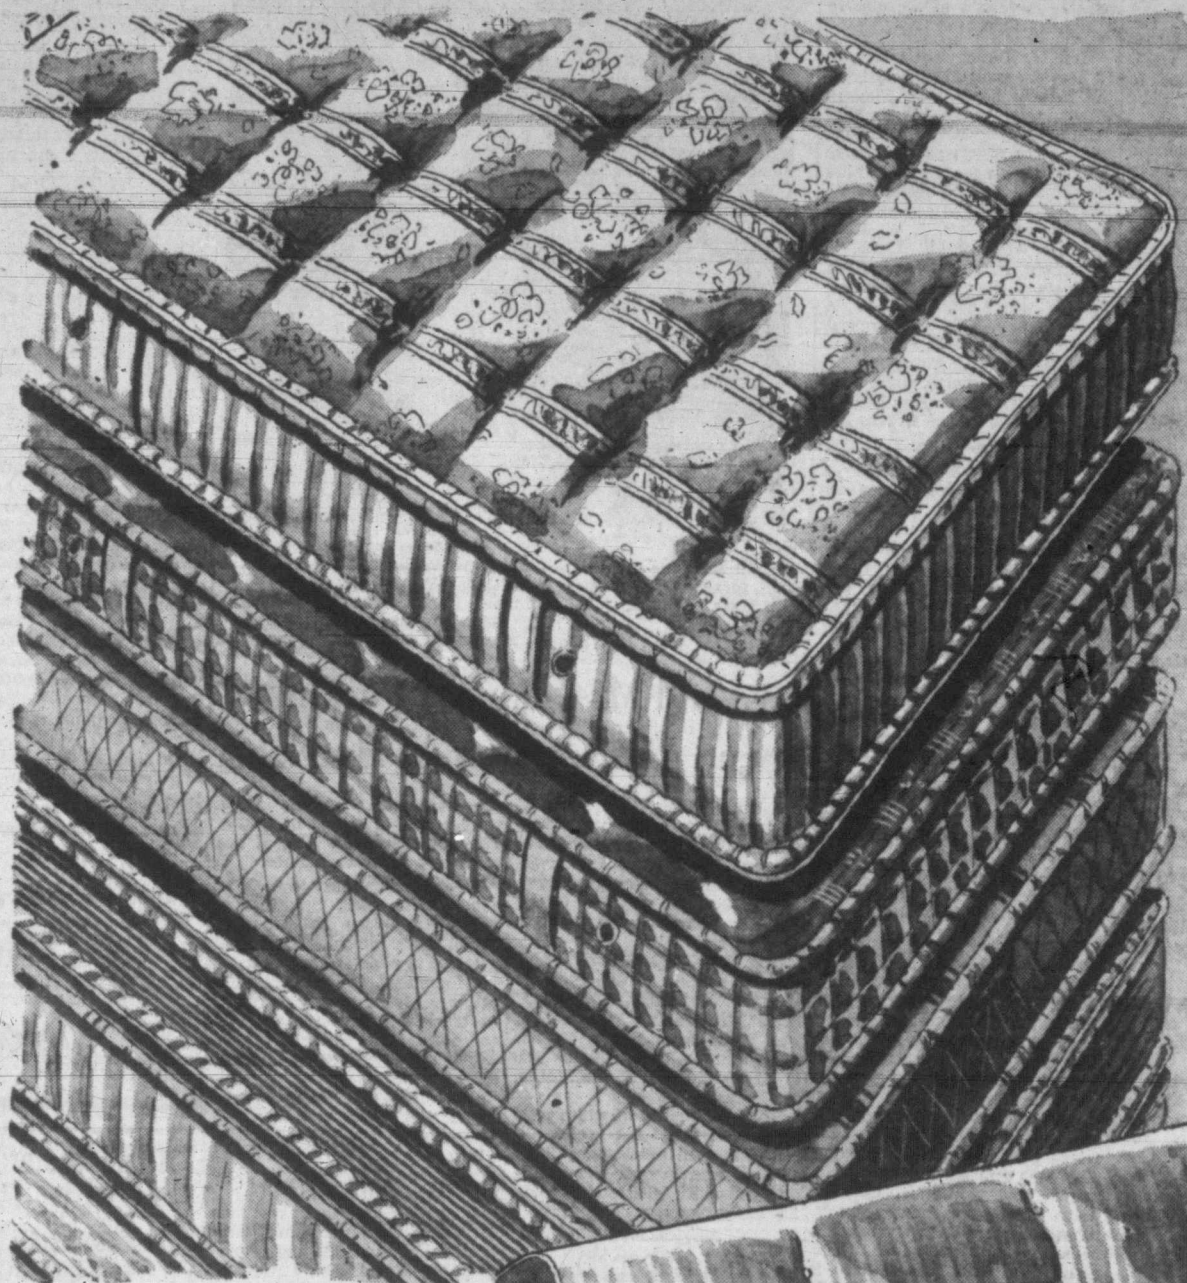

Kamloops Sentinel
An old lady, shocked at the language of some ditch-diggers near her home, complained to their foreman. The foreman promised to inquire into the matter and called one of the men over.

"What's all this about swearing?" he demanded.
"Why boss," replied the ditch-digger, "It's nothing at all. Me and Butch were working there side-by-side, and I accidentally let my pick slip and hit him on the head. And Butch looked at me and said, 'Really, Joseph, in the future you must handle that implement with more caution.'"

On The Increase

Exchange
The birth rate in Britain for the quarter ended December 31, 1946, rose to a level of 20.5 per 1,000 of the total population. This is the highest birth rate recorded since 1921. The rate for the corresponding quarter of 1945 was 15.3 and for 1938 13.8. The infant mortality rate was 44 per 1,000 of related live births, which is 7 per 1,000 below that for the equivalent quarter of the 10 preceding years, 1936-45. The reproduction rate was 10% above that required to maintain the population.

Tiny Maids Precede Bride In Pendray-Young Rites

Two little maids carrying Colonial posies preceded Miss Audrey Evelyn Young and her trio of adult attendants into Glad Tidings Tabernacle Saturday evening for her marriage to Harold J. Pendray. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. W. Robinson, assisted by Rev. P. S. Jones. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Young, 306 Chester Avenue, and the groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Pendray, 3825 Quadra Street.

Red rosebuds and sweet peas topped a white bible carried by the bride, given in marriage by her father. Misty net, held beneath a scalloped halo of orange blossoms, cascaded over her regal gown of satin, enriched with yoke of net embroidered in flowers.

Embossed nylon in pale blue over white taffeta was worn by Mrs. Dick Goodwyn, matron of honor. She chose a small floral hat and carried sweet peas, delphiniums and carnations. Similar gowns of double net-over taffeta, with net mitts and flower halos were worn by Miss Dorothy Young, sister of the bride, in powder blue, and Miss Elaine Pendray, cousin of the groom, in pink. Their bouquets were similar to that of Mrs. Dick's.

Flower girls, little Catherine Ann McLean and Linda Stirrup, were in peach nylon sheer and blue taffeta, respectively.

John Pendray was groomsmen for his cousin, Dick Goodwyn, Roy Gamble and Joe Edison ushered guests to their seats. Vocal solos were given by Mrs. Jennie McLeod.

A reception was held at Seamen's Institute Hall, where Mrs. Young and Mrs. Pendray assisted in receiving guests. Rev. Robinson proposed the bride's toast, and Rev. L. J. Blackmore acted as master of ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Pendray plan to do pastoral work for the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada, following their honeymoon up island and on the mainland.

Blue, Old Rose Theme At Wedding

Pastel hues of blue and old rose worn by her quartette of bridal attendants formed a striking retinue for Miss Louise Margaret Aitken when she exchanged wedding vows with Sidney Horace Draper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney, E. Draper, 3153 Irma Street, formerly of Ottawa.

An array of sweet peas and ferns, flanked by standard baskets of summer blooms fashioned a pleasing setting for the ceremony performed by Mr. H. L. Hopkins at Oaklands Gospel Hall.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Aitken, 2750 Graham Street, chose a gown of slipper satin with an inset of frilled net centring the full skirt, slightly en train. An embroidered veil cascaded over all from a wreath of orange blossoms, and she wore the groom's gift of pearls. Her shower bouquet was of red roses and white carnations.

Attendants were sisters and cousins of the bride: Miss Betty Aitken, as maid of honor, wore pale blue taffeta; Miss Wilma Aitken and Miss Joy Bagshaw, bridesmaids were in old rose taffeta, and Miss Daphne Slater wore pastel blue. All chose floral headresses and net veils to match their frocks and carried Colonial bouquets of pink and blue flowers.

Groomsman was Ross Powell and ushering were Clem Aitken, brother of the bride and Stan Hitchman.

Arthur L. Bagshaw, cousin of the bride, proposed the toast, at a reception at the K. of P. Hall, where Mrs. Aitken and Mrs. Draper assisted in welcoming guests.

Following their honeymoon in Banff, the couple will make their home at 2828 Blackwood Avenue. The bride wore a pale blue gabardine suit with white topcoat and crownless hat trimmed with flowers for her going-away ensemble.

An Explanation of Our Telephone Service Difficulties

In trying to keep up the quality of our telephone service, we are fighting against a number of difficulties which we did not face before the war.

In the case of automatic exchanges, we are unable to get enough equipment, and so we are overloading our present equipment in order to give service to as many people as possible. Sometimes when subscribers try to place calls they find a delay in getting "dial tone." In other words, the equipment is too busy on other calls to serve them immediately.

Even after a subscriber gets dial tone and begins to dial, he may encounter the "busy" signal before he finishes dialing the number. This indicates that somewhere in the maze of machinery which is required to handle the call, all of the apparatus is busy and so the call is held up.

Now in regard to switchboards served by telephone operators. Because we cannot get enough switchboard, we have to overload our existing switchboards. That means we must ask our operators to look after calls from more than the normal number of telephone lines. Many of our operators haven't been working for us long enough to reach their greatest efficiency, and so, no matter how hard they try, they are unable to handle calls as fast as more experienced girls.

So you see it adds up to two main problems: Overloaded equipment and a high ratio of inexperienced operators.

These are the reasons why our service is sometimes below prewar standards. We are doing our best to overcome these obstacles and get our service back to normal.

Strawberry Vale One Of First Schools To Be Constructed

New construction at Strawberry Vale School will be one of the first projects of the school building program, which is to extend over a five-year period, J. F. K. English, senior municipal inspector of schools, stated today.

He denied rumors that Strawberry Vale will be one of the last projects to be undertaken should the by-law pass. "The addition is neither very large nor very expensive, and can be done quickly," he said.

To relieve overcrowding at Mackenzie Avenue School, Mr. English announced a probable redistribution of pupils will be made between Mackenzie Avenue and other elementary schools such as Tolmie and Strawberry Vale. "The construction of the new Junior High at Topaz Avenue would relieve these elementary schools of grade 7 and 8 pupils," he said.

"They have been most active in assisting the Army in promoting plans for the new citadel and with all matters related to its many activities," Maj. Bell said.

It is announced from National Headquarters, Toronto, that Maj. C. J. Milley is returning to Victoria as successor to Maj. Bell. Maj. and Mrs. Milley spent eight years, including the whole period of the war, in this city as public relations officers and for a period had charge of the Three Services Canteen on Broad Street. Russia To Stop Bread Rationing

MOSCOW (AP) — Food Minister V. P. Zotov said in Pravda today that bread rationing is to be abandoned in Russia.

He did not specify when, but exhorted bakers to have their plants in condition to handle an upsurge in bread making.

Zotov said 385,000 more acres of sugar beets had been planted this year and that sowing was completed earlier than usual. He said 186 sugar refineries would be turning out 150,000 tons daily, whereas last year 145 plants operated.

He asserted food production in the fourth quarter of this year should increase 38 per cent over the same period of 1946.

800 Parking Meters To Be Installed On City Streets

By August Victoria should have the first of 800 parking meters installed and working on city streets, as Monday's City Council meeting authorized the installation of the meters.

The meters will be purchased from the M-Co Meter Company Ltd. for $67.50 for each meter. Installation and transportation will cost an additional $5.00 per meter. They are the manual-type machine, Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the public works committee reported, and adjusted so that one penny will buy 12 minutes parking time, or five cents a full hour.

The meters are to be given a one year trial, and the streets on which they will be installed will be decided on the recommendations of Chief of Police J. A. McLellan.

The city solicitor was instructed by the City Council to prepare the necessary contract for signature with the company. Ald. Hunter gave assurance that the majority of the parts of the meter are Canadian made, and the stands on which they rest will probably be made locally.

Until such time as the meters are paid for the company will receive 50 per cent of the receipts and the city will keep the other 50 per cent. First charge on the receipts will be the cost of installation, which the company will bear initially.

Ald. Hunter said that to install any other type of machine would have cost the city $15,000 more.

If the meters do not prove satisfactory after a year's trial, the company has agreed to take them away and restore the streets at no cost to the city.

Ald. Hunter said that most parking signs will have to be altered once the meters are installed. First installation will be 30 days after the agreement has been signed.

Mayor Percy George suggested that the receipts from parking meters should be placed into a separate fund for street improvement or some similar object and not placed in the general revenue fund. Ald. Hunter agreed with this.

B.C.E.R. Must Check With Municipalities; Diggon Tells City

Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee, gave assurance to Monday's City Council meeting that in future the B.C. Electric Railway Company would make no changes of routes, or changes of equipment without first consulting the committee.

Referring to Saturday's announcement by the company of the proposed change in the Gorge, Esquimalt, and Uplands routes, due to take effect July 1, Ald. Diggon explained the company had made its application to the Public Utilities Commission for the change prior to the franchise.

"We will never again allow ourselves to be in the position where a public utility company will dominate our community as in the past," he declared. "This has been provided for in the agreement, and the company must consult periodically on changes."

Speaking on routes, he said that the committee had spent hours and days investigating complaints and requests, and in future all press releases would be made jointly by the company and the committee.

The City Council gave final reading to the transportation by-law, and it must now go to the Public Utilities Commission and the Lieutenant-Governor in Council for final ratification.

City Council Briefs

W. C. Maitwaring was named to the Public Library Board by Monday's City Council meeting to fill the vacancy created by the death of Dr. S. J. Willis.

City Council Monday approved sale of seven parcels of land to veterans for $1,382.50, and of two parcels of land to civilians for $997.50.

The public works and parks committee was instructed to have barricades or fences erected by the footpath in Beacon Hill Park which the Town Planning Commission reported was dangerously close to the edge of the cliff. Erosion has caused the potentially dangerous condition, it was stated.

L. C. Karagianis in a letter to Monday's City Council meeting bitterly protested the increase of his taxes from $89.50 to $143 this year because of the re-assessment of his property. The city assessor was instructed to interview him and explain the tax increase and the reassessment.

Wherever possible the City Council will follow the policy of hiring older veterans for jobs, it was decided Monday on the recommendation of Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the civic service committee.

The resignation of V. A. Elder, clerk in the assessor's department was accepted Monday. He has accepted employment in the provincial service it was reported.

The City Council, on a resolution by Ald. D. D. McTavish, congratulated Norman Foster and the Girls' Drill Team for the splendid performance given at the Portland Rose Festival this month.

Authorization was given for repairs to spouts of the Ogden Point grain elevator at an estimated cost of $500. The elevator has been without a tenant for almost a year.

New Salary Scale To Cost Victoria $30,000 This Year

City Council Monday approved ratification of a working agreement drawn up by the Civic Service Committee and the City Hall Employees' Association, which will add another $30,000 to the pay roll for 1947. The sum of $50,000 was set aside in the 1947 estimates for such a contingency.

Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the committee presented the working agreement and salary schedule which gave substantial wage increases to many of the employees. He said that it had been the subject of long and intense negotiation between the committee and employees during the past few months. The salary increases are retroactive to January 1 of this year, and the agreement runs for a one year period, with provision for its continuance from year to year unless either party gives 30 days notice.

Ald. Edward Williams asked for assurance that the employees were satisfied with the agreement and the new salary schedule, and Ald. Diggon reported that the association was satisfied, although he understood some individual complaints had still to be dealt with.

The agreement provides that the employees shall have a bargaining committee of three to meet with the civic service committee and deal with all complaints or grievances as they come up.

A working agreement with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers was also ratified by the City Council on the recommendation of Ald. Diggon. This agreement provides for a union shop, two weeks' holidays with pay after one year's service, and three weeks after 10 years' service, a 40-hour week, and time off for overtime on the basis of time and a half. Special provisions are made for those working in the line department.

Dr. Arthur Poyntz, of the Citizens' Arena Committee, was named to fill the one-year vacancy on the commission.

A continued influx of families from other parts of Canada to British Columbia is reflected in the June report on family allowances issued by W. R. Bone, regional director, today. During the month 631 families came to this province, while 248 left British Columbia for elsewhere in the Dominion. As in previous months the prairie provinces contributed the bulk of the newcomers, with Ontario in fourth place sending 106 families.

Aldermen Oppose Hospital Sweeps At Mayor's Meet

The city of Victoria will vote against any plan to legalize sweepstakes for hospital purposes at the Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, which meets in Winnipeg early in July, it was indicated at Monday's City Council meeting.

Mayor Percy George will attend as the city's representative and he asked the council for instructions on the long list of resolutions sent for consideration, including one on the hospital sweepstakes.

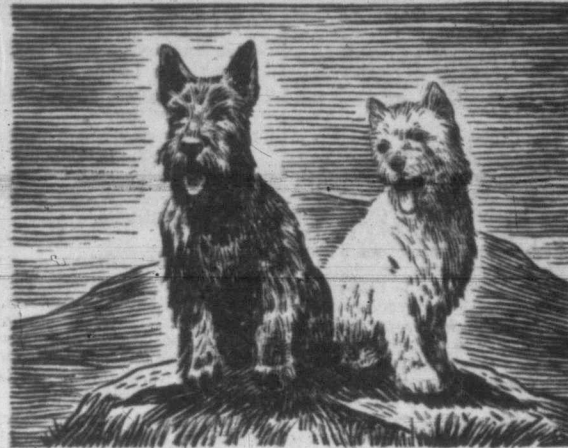

Ald. W. L. Morgan suggested that the entire matter be left in the hands of the mayor, but Ald. Edward Williams queried what his stand would be on the sweepstakes question, commenting that he was opposed to any such plan.

Mayor George agreed that he was unalterably opposed to sweepstakes.

With regard to other resolutions the city's stand was referred to the finance committee, which met this afternoon. Mayor George stressed that provincial-municipal relations would be one of the main points under discussion.

'Dark Delusion' Opens At Dominion

The strange case of a beautiful girl who believes herself to be going insane, and who exhibits every symptom of schizophrenia, provides the dramatic meat of "Dark Delusion," latest in M-G-M's popular "Dr. Gillespie" series, which is drawing crowds to the Dominion Theatre this week.

Dr. Gillespie and his current protegee, young Dr. Tommy Coalt, find themselves up against their toughest case in their attempt to cure lovely Cynthia Grace who has everything to live for but whose morbid state of mind leads her to successive attempts at suicide. When she is believed to have deliberately set her room on fire, her father is about to commit her to an insane asylum, and it is then that Drs. Gillespie and Coalt step in to dig at the root of the problem and save the girl from confinement.

PLAZA THEATRE

James Mason, who has taken the film world by storm with his dramatic portrayals, has a new kind of role in Universal's International's movie parts "Odd Man Out" at the Plaza Theatre.

In direct contrast to his recent movie parts "Odd Man Out" provides Mason with a powerful yet sympathetic role. He appears as the idealistic leader of an underground Irish army.

"Odd Man Out" was produced and directed by Carol Reed, and introduces Kathleen Ryan, 24-year-old Belfast beauty, as the feminine lead opposite Mason.

Ouchterlony Demonstrates Latest Wurlitzer Reed Organ

By AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON

An event which had a dual significance and interest for music lovers, took place at the Victoria Little Theatre Monday evening, when an invitation audience heard, for the first time, a new and remarkable electric organ, played by one of Canada's most distinguished organists, David Ouchterlony.

The concert was sponsored by Fletcher Bros. Ltd., for the purpose of introducing the new Wurlitzer organ.

Mr. Ouchterlony is organist and choirmaster at Timothy Eaton Memorial Church in Toronto and head of the music department of Upper Canada College. He has recently been conducting examinations in British Columbia for the Toronto Conservatory of Music. In his program last night, he proved to be a true virtuoso of the organ, and in addition to his extraordinary technical skill, revealed a profound artistry and perfection of control. His astonishing facility with the pedals was demonstrated throughout, but as highlighted when he performed his own "Petal Study," and also a little polka tune he had written as a warming up exercise.

No one could more ably have demonstrated the organ's ability for contrast and texture of tone, than Mr. Ouchterlony. At times it appeared to commune with itself, as in the Choral Prelude "A Rose Breaks Forth" by Brahms, where the tone was whispering-soft and remote. It was brighter, more clearly defined, in the gay dialogue, "Trumpet Tune" by Purcell. The Bach Prelude and Fugue in G Major was magnificent, with wonderful pedal work, the whole being finely integrated and balanced.

The instrument itself, approximates the finest pipe organ in tone and resource. This is accounted for by the fact that the tone is produced by a system of reeds as in a conventional pipe organ, this being a revolutionary principle in electric organs. The new Wurlitzer is built to the specifications of the American Guild of Organists and any pipe organist will find himself perfectly at home, at its console, which was the sensation of the Music Merchants' Convention held in Chicago recently.

War Assets Sells Yacht Sans Pour To Montreal Firm

In seaworthy condition after a record of useful service with the Royal Canadian Navy, the former luxury yacht San Pour, formerly the property of the Duke of Sutherland, has been sold, it was reported today by War Assets Corporation.

The Maple Leaf Steamship Company of Montreal, Leslie Fraser, president, purchased the yacht which is now tied up at Halifax, N.S.

The Sans Pour is British-built of stout construction with twin Diesel engines, producing up to 154 knots. There is an adequate installation of Diesel and electricity powered auxiliary machinery. The decks are teak and the cabins are paneled in a variety of decorative hardwoods.

In commission in B.C. waters at the outbreak of World War II, the S.C.N.S. was turned over to the R.C.N. and was commissioned early in 1940. She was stationed at Esquimalt as an examination vessel during the war, eventually becoming an anti-submarine training ship.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Acclaimed as the screen's strangest adventure of startling emotion, "The Dark Corner," brilliant new 20th Century-Fox hit, starring Lucille Ball, Clifton Webb, William Bendix and Mark Stevens, currently at the Oak Bay Theatre.

The fast-moving psychological murder mystery, set against a background of luxury and sophistication, unfolds a story of a love tinged with the terror of an unknown danger.

ROYAL THEATRE

All the excitement and thrills that made the wild west so reckless and violent at the turn of the century, is vigorously captured in Niven Busch's "Pursued," a United States Pictures' production released by Warner Bros., which co-stars Teresa Wright and Robert Mitchum, and is currently holding forth at the Royal Theatre.

Niven Busch, author of both the original story and the screenplay, has written a dual saga of pioneer days in the old southwest and a long-lasting family feud back in the 1890's.

B.C. Poultry Now Large Producer

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS, B.C. (CP) — Prof. A. E. Lloyd, professor of poultry husbandry at the University of British Columbia, said Monday that B.C.'s poultry industry, now producing $14,000,000 to $18,000,000 annually, would soon equal production of the fruit-growing and dairying industries.

However, Prof. Lloyd told delegates attending the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of the Fraser Valley and lower mainland that the industry was highly specialized and newcomers were to be warned of the small profit accompanying large production.

Half Of B.C.'s Grubstaked Prospectors Are Veterans

Nearly half the prospectors being grubstaked by the provincial government this year are war veterans. Of the 78 applications approved so far, 36 were from veterans of World War I and II.

Among these 36 are veterans of the navy, army and air force. Ages range all the way from 22 to 69. In one case there is a partnership between father and son, ages 60 and 28, respectively. In another, the partners are brothers, ages 22 and 23, both veterans of the R.C.A.F.

This year the prospectors are searching for mineral wealth in areas throughout B.C. Nine are shown as prospecting on Vancouver Island, in the Cowichan Lake, Bedwell Sound and Port Alice areas. On the mainland, B.C. government grubstaked prospectors are searching in concentrations in the Lillooet, Quesnel, Cariboo and Northern Okanagan mining divisions.

The maximum amount of financial assistance offered prospectors by the government is $300, although a special allowance of $200 is made in some cases where prospectors go into isolated areas where transportation costs are high.

To get the grubstake, prospectors make application in writing to B. T. O'Grady, mines department engineer. Each applicant, who is recommended by three responsible persons must satisfy the department he has had previous prospecting experience or has had training in mineralogy, geology, map reading and other subjects necessary for prospecting.

CLASSIFYING TEST

For those making their first applications for the grubstake there is a test which consists of classifying a number of the more common rocks and minerals. There are no strings attached to this government grubstake and the prospectors are sole owner of his discoveries.

In some cases, prospectors graduate to a more lavish grubstake. An example of this is the case of Bert Goodridge, veteran prospector in the Johanson Lake area in northern B.C. Goodridge had previously been grubstaked by the provincial government but this year it is reported New York capital to the extent of $20,000 has been placed at his disposal to finance three separate prospecting parties.

To further aid the prospector in his search for wealth in the ground, the mines department is now preparing a report on industrial minerals which may be found in the province. Many prospectors have been missing them in the past and the report is designed to aid them in identifying the minerals and in gauging the profit they may show.

Included in the minerals which will be listed by the report are: asbestos, barite, beryl, building and monumental stones, china clay, colored rock, feldspar, fluor spar, gypsum, limonite, mica, nephelitic-syenite, perlite, pumice, silica and talc.

However, it is warned, discovery of these non-metallic minerals is not necessarily going to mean a shower of wealth to the prospector. There are still three points to be considered: is the mineral in a good location, of sufficiently good quality or in sufficient quantity to make it worth commercial mining?

Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., will speak at the meeting of the Old Age Pension Campaign Council tonight at 8 at Robert House.

A. D. Crease, K.C., and W. H. M. Haldane of Victoria, have been elected "benchers" or members of the management committee of the British Columbia Law Society, following a tabulation of ballots by the membership of the group. Annual meeting of the society will be held July 4, at which time a new slate of officers will be elected. Mr. Crease is treasurer of the group.

Yachtsmen Getting Ready For Big Seattle Regatta

Victoria yachtsmen are getting their boats in shape for the biggest sailing event of the year—The P.I.Y.A. Regatta.

The annual event is held in Seattle from July 1 to 4 with the following day reserved for prize giving. The races attract thousands of boating people from northern Pacific ports, as far south as San Francisco.

Jack Woodward with his D-class sloop, Zephyr II, with crewman Dick Freeman, has already sailed for Seattle—four runners of many more who will leave Victoria this week-end to participate in the regatta. The pair left Cadboro Bay Monday noon, with the intention of skirting the San Juan Islands and arriving at Seattle Saturday.

Probably the most spectacular thing about the regatta is the sight of sailing craft of all descriptions, including high powered motor cruisers. There will be a host of smaller boats, dinghies, lightnings, stars and the like.

Getting ready for the races is no easy matter, usually requires weeks of preparation. Everything aboard a boat has to be checked and rechecked, and often times special sailing gear is added to boost the speed of the vessel. Skippers also have to spend a lot of time studying courses, tides, rules and regulations and multiple other navigational problems.

The week's competition under the P.I.Y.A. will open with the Swifts Race on Saturday and Sunday, starting from Victoria. But entries for this race are limited to vessels which are capable of standing up to rough weather. The course, which is 160 miles, will start from the breakwater here and end at Port Townsend.

On Monday at Port Madison there will be a rendezvous of all sailing craft. On the following day, July 1, there will be a race to Eagle Harbor and back to Shishole Bay. On July 2, there will be a 12-mile race on Lake Washington, and on the next day, Thursday morning, a 6-mile race. In the afternoon there will be the race for the Vancouver Jubilee Trophy.

Chilliwack Queen Pays Visit Here

Eyres, M.L.A. for Chilliwack, who arranged the trip. They also met Mrs. Eyres and daughters Jean and Joy. From Mr. Eyres' office, the visitors were taken to meet Premier John Hart and his cabinet to whom the girls presented baskets of cherries.

City Needs $200,000 Of Loan To Meet Debt Interest July 2

The city will probably have to borrow approximately $200,000 of the $500,000 bank loan authorized by Monday's meeting, by the end of July, D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller, stated today.

He explained that the city revenues have not fallen off from last year, in fact tax collections are up almost $12,000 over the figure at this time last year.

However, the City Council over-extended its 1946 budget, leaving $100,000 less in the surplus account than was carried over the year previous. In addition, he said approximately $50,000 has been advanced from general funds to cover expenditures made under the $108,000 waterworks by-law and the $108,000 street lighting by-law, authorized last year.

He anticipated that the bonds for both these by-laws will be issued later this year, and at this time the $50,000 will be repaid to the current account.

Another unexpected expense which has depleted the city's cash on hand is the $40,000 extra grant given the Jubilee Hospital this year.

Gallery, Public Benches Full As Pickles Suit Goes To Jury

Gallery and public benches of the Supreme Court were well filled today, for the final act of Sydney Pickles' $10,000 suit for damages for malicious prosecution, against six executive officers of the Victoria Branch of the S.P.C.A. and an inspector for the branch.

H. W. Davey, K.C., counsel for Mr. Pickles concluded his address to the jury Monday, and Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane began his charge this morning. The case went to the jury this afternoon.

The case which began last Monday and which has attracted a considerable number of people to the courtroom daily, including junior counsel and law students, arose from a charge of neglect of sheep laid against Mr. Pickles by the Victoria branch of the S.P.C.A.

The charge was dismissed in police court. Mr. Justice Macfarlane in the first part of his charge to the jury dealt with the refutation by Col. T. C. Evans, a graduate veterinary surgeon, of statements attributed to him by John L. Weeks, inspector for the S.P.C.A., and one of the defendants.

Col. Evans in his evidence Monday denied that he had told Weeks he saw dead sheep on Mr. Pickles' farm, and also denied that he had told Weeks he "knew Pickles' sheep were neglected." He denied also that he had told Mrs. Barr any such information.

Dr. Edward Bruce, animal pathologist at the Dominion Experimental Station at Saanich, also denied a statement attributed to him by Mrs. Florence Barr, corresponding secretary of the Victoria Branch of the S.P.C.A. and a defendant in the action. Mr. Justice Macfarlane also referred to Dr. Gordon Keown's evidence to the effect that he had had no conversation with Mrs. Barr on the question.

R. D. Harvey, K.C., is counsel for the defendants: James Barr, Annette B. Vivenot, Harold H. Smith, Mrs. E. Williams, Mrs. Florence G. Barr, George Drew and Mr. Weeks.

The plates of the 10,000-ton freighter were rusted as the result of bad weather crossing the Pacific. The ship bucked head winds most of the way across. The first good weather was experienced three days from Victoria.

The freighter left New York April last. She is bound for Australia and from there she is expected to call at Greece and Turkey before returning to New York. The crew expect to be back home late this fall.

The vessel arrived from Japan with no cargo. Mr. Olson said this was because Japan had no merchandise to export, due to the lack of raw materials.

People Of Orient Want Rice

King Bros. Ltd. are the ship's agents.

There were two people in the front seat with me and two in the back," Dillabough said. "I was driving at 20 to 25 miles per hour. When I had nearly crossed the intersection of Tennyson and Ardersier I heard a crash at the back of the car. I didn't see the automobile at all before the crash."

On looking back he said he saw the right back window broken, stopped the car and ran to the man he saw lying on the road. He said he then called the police. Mrs. Laura Bergstrom, a passenger in the rear of the car, said she saw nothing and the first thing she knew glass was falling all over her.

Gordon McClure was jury foreman. Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, presided.

T. O. Mackay Passes Suddenly At Home

Funeral services will be held at 3:15 tomorrow afternoon in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlor for Thomas Otto Mackay, 837 St. Charles Street, well-known golfer, fisherman, hunter and insurance agent in Victoria for 41 years, who passed away suddenly at his home Sunday.

He is survived by his widow, Agnes Gertrude, here; his eldest son, James Savage Mackay, another son, Thomas O. Mackay Jr., and daughters, Mrs. M. E. Heppell and Miss Barbara Mackay, all of Victoria; other daughters, Mrs. W. O. Findlay, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Charles Mertz of Pennsylvania.

Born in September, 1879, in Sarnia, Ont., the son of Daniel L. Mackay, the late Mr. Mackay was educated in Winnipeg, came to Victoria in 1906 and spent four years in Vancouver as partner of A. H. B. Macgowan in the insurance business. He was president of the Douglas, Mackay & Company here for 41 years. He was married in 1910 to the daughter of James M. Savage.

He was a member of the St. Andrew's Lodge, was a member of the Victoria Golf Club and the Senior Golf Association, a Red Cross life member, and was prominent in the functions of the A.R.P. as a patrol warden and a recreation officer during the war.

Plenty Of Jobs In Chile, If You Know The Language

There are plenty of opportunities for Canadian skilled workers in South America providing they can speak Spanish, according to Valentine Duke, who is visiting Victoria with his family after 23 years absence in Chile.

Mr. Duke, who has interests in flour mills and agriculture, said there was "big money" and a comfortable living in South America for skilled workers, especially for electricians and machinists, but it was an absolute necessity to have some knowledge of the language.

"I think the teaching of Spanish should be encouraged in our schools," he said. "Air transportation has brought the two continents closer together and it is to our interest to study Spanish."

Mr. Duke said there was also a large market for Canada in South America. "The possibilities are immense," he said, "but for the moment there is very little trade because of the lack of dollars to purchase goods."

He predicted, however, that once trade returned to normal, there would be strong competition for the South American market. At the moment the United States had the upper hand, he said.

Speaking of Chile, Mr. Duke said there was little difference between certain regions of that country and Victoria. "I like Victoria," he said, "but frankly certain parts of Chile are equally as nice as far as the weather and climate go."

He said Chile was the second largest coffee-producing country in the world. "Farms depend on the large number of rivers for their water," he said. "Agriculture depends on the irrigation system, which is being expanded. The rivers are also being harnessed for electric power."

Mr. Duke speaks Spanish so fluently that, to the annoyance of many of his Spanish employees in South America, he corrects their letters. His family also has mastered the language.

Accidental Death Verdict On Boulton

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury today at McCall's Funeral Parlors, in the death of George Boulton, 66, 3241 Irma Street, employee of the Saanich street lighting department, from injuries sustained when his automobile was in collision with an automobile driven by Keith H. Dillabough, 1031 Carberry Gardens, at Tennyson and Ardersier Roads, Friday night.

There were two people in the front seat with me and two in the back," Dillabough said. "I was driving at 20 to 25 miles per hour. When I had nearly crossed the intersection of Tennyson and Ardersier I heard a crash at the back of the car. I didn't see the automobile at all before the crash."

On looking back he said he saw the right back window broken, stopped the car and ran to the man he saw lying on the road. He said he then called the police. Mrs. Laura Bergstrom, a passenger in the rear of the car, said she saw nothing and the first thing she knew glass was falling all over her.

Gordon McClure was jury foreman. Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, presided.

New Flood Crests Rising In 3 States; Toll Mounts

OMAHA (AP)—New flood crests rolled down midwestern streams today, forcing large-scale evacuation of low-lying areas and heaping destruction on some sections for the third time in a month.

Behind the flood waters, residents of Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri repaired damage and cleared away debris, while ahead of the floods others moved to higher ground.

At Cambridge, in southwest

Nebraska, where 13 persons were drowned in Sunday's flash flood, the search continued for four bodies. Nine already had been recovered. Two drownings near Miller, Neb., and a tornado death near Oxford, Neb., left Nebraska with a week-end toll of 16.

DIKES BREACHED

From Alma, Neb., farther east on the Republican River bridge at the site of the Harlan County dam had gone out and dikes had broken, necessitating weeks of delay in construction of one of southwest Nebraska's principal flood control structures.

The weather bureau at Norfolk, Neb., issued a new flood warning late Monday night as two flood crests rolled down northeast Nebraska's Elkhorn River about 20 miles apart. The warning was directed at residents between Ewing, where the river started rising a second time, and Meadow Grove, about 50 miles downstream.

At Kansas City, Mo., Col. William E. Potter, district army engineer, estimated 63 levees along the Missouri and its tributaries between Rulo, Neb., and St. Louis would be breached as the high water moved downstream, bringing flooding to 10,000 acres not previously inundated. Seven other levees protecting 6,200 acres were threatened, he added.

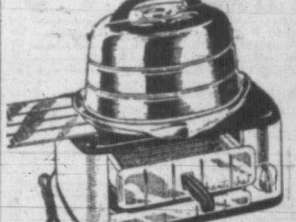

The entire population of Agency in northwest Missouri was forced to evacuate when the Platte reached a record high level.

Rail and highway traffic in all three states was disrupted. Iowa braced against a new series of floods—the third in as many weeks.

In Ottumwa, Ia., on the Des Moines River, Mayor Herman Schaeffer, said persons in south and west Ottumwa were being evacuated.

Gold Medalist

Dr. J. H. Crookston, gold medalist graduate of the University of Toronto in medicine, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Crookston of 520 Cook Street.

Except for two years in Fernie High School, Dr. Crookston received all his early education in Victoria. At Victoria College, he was the winner of several prizes and scholarships, including the Kiwanis scholarship. At University of British Columbia in his third year he was awarded a scholarship in arts and sciences. At Toronto University he led his class for three years in succession and this year, in addition to winning the gold medal, he has been awarded the Ellen Michel scholarship and the Charles E. Frost scholarship.

He is spending the summer as resident physician of Tranquille Sanatorium, and on his return to Toronto will undertake research in clinical physiology at the Banting Institute.

Bottlenecks Delaying Housing Furnishings, Being Ironed Out

OTTAWA (CP)—Some of those annoying bottlenecks which have been plaguing postwar housing and home furnishing are ironing themselves out, it is indicated in reports issued by the Bureau of Statistics Monday.

Wire nails, for instance, were turned out during April in the largest quantities produced for nearly a year, with 6,609 tons manufactured compared with 6,524 the previous month and 6,276 the corresponding month in 1946. Previous high was in May, 1946, when 6,730 tons were made.

Domestic washing machines rolled off assembly lines in April in an all-time record quantities. The month's output of 16,975 units compared with 15,801 the previous month and 10,445 the same month last year. Electric refrigerators of the domestic type totaled 8,531 units against 8,590 in March and 5,299 in April, 1946.

In another report, the bureau said production of steel wire and fencing in April was 27,759 tons against 23,332 in April, 1946.

A further report—on the critical progress of housing itself—was less encouraging. In the first three months of the year, a total of 242 municipalities reported only 5,263 new dwelling units. These municipalities, the bureau said, represented about 66 per cent of the total population. Comparative figures for last year were not available due to incomplete reports.

Health Insurance Outlook Discussed By Medical Assn.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Problems connected with introduction of a national health insurance program were being pondered today by delegates to the Canadian Medical Association's 78th annual convention.

The discussion followed an address by Dr. A. E. Archer of Edmonton, Alta., during which the convention was told that sooner or later such a scheme probably would become effective in Canada.

Provincial schemes, notably those of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, are being studied carefully in connection with the possible federal plan.

Necessity for agreement between all provinces and the Dominion concerning taxation in connection with a national health scheme before it could become operative was stressed.

Dr. Archer said the medical

Canadian Pacific Continues Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks developed reactionary tendencies today as profit cashing was inspired by the idea that the senate's overriding of the vetoed United States labor bill had been pretty well discounted market-wise.

Canadian Pacific gained $\frac{1}{2}$ among Canadian issues at mid-day, while McIntyre lost $\frac{1}{2}$. Distillers Seagram added $\frac{1}{2}$ and Dome Mines eased $\frac{1}{2}$.

CHICAGO (AP)—Corn sold at an all-time high on the Board of Trade today climbing to $2.01, before profit cashing checked the advance. Opening strong the yellow cereal advanced sharply when commercial interests and shorts competed for the light offerings in the July delivery. The previous high was established June 20 when the July contract sold for $2.00, breaking through the high of $1.99 recorded in July 1919.
